

Hindu Selves in a Modern World: Guru Faith in the Mata Amritanandamayi Mission

By Maya Warrior

Routledge, London, UK. Paperback. Book Condition: New. First Edition. This book explores devotional Hinduism in a modern context of high consumerism and revolutionised communications. It focuses on a fast-growing and high-profile contemporary Hindu guru faith originating in India and attracting a transnational following. The organization is led by an extremely popular female guru, Mata Amritanandamayi, whom devotees worship as an avatar and a healer of the ills of the contemporary world. By drawing upon multi-sited ethnographic fieldwork among the Mata's primarily urban, educated 'middle class' Indian devotees, the author provides crucial insights into new trends in popular Hinduism in a post-colonial and rapidly modernizing Indian setting. Contents Acknowledgements 1. Introduction 2. Encountering the Mata 3. An avatar with a mission 4. Choosing to surrender 5. Spiritual pathways 6. Experiencing divine love 7. East meets West? 8. Reviews

This book is definitely not straightforward to get started on studying but extremely exciting to read. It is really simplistic but shocks in the 50 percent of the ebook. Once you begin to read the book, it is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding.
