Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Ghost Light: A Novel Burrell Chick had come up to the Hogs Back to write his Sunday sermon. He knew it would be quiet there and the ordeal of preparing that weekly oration certainly called for peace and solitude. He was a good speaker, but his knowledge of the Bible was limited. However, he was preaching for money and it was his belief that he should give the members of his congregation their money s worth. Funny how things had turned out! When he started to be a medical student, Burrell had never dreamed that he would one day be preaching in this rural community. But theological students were scarce and every year the church dignitaries in Winnipeg applied for help from the medical and law schools to supply the country charges. Burrell had won several debates - had spoken before his professors with conviction and authority, and so he had been recommended for this summer work. It was pleasant enough and the money would see him through his next years study, but the preparation of the sermons was becoming more and more difficult. Burrell was a little man and not too good-looking, but there was a suggestion of hidden strength in his short, stocky figure. Distinguished-looking they would call him later in life, but now his unruly red hair and the freckles that covered his nose and forehead, were hardly calculated to make him a favorite with the girls at college.
