Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Texas Public Schools: Standards and Activities of the Division of Supervision In accordance with the provisions of this Act the public schools of the State shall, upon satisfactory evidence, be ranked by the State Department of Education as high schools of the first class, high schools of the second class, and high schools of the third class. Acts Thirtyfourth Legislature, Ch. 36, Sec. 5. Inasmuch as the law prescribes that public high schools shall be classified by the State Department of Education, all public schools of the State attempting to do high school work are required to make a report to the State Superintendent of Public Instruction as to course of study, teachers employed, number of years work, length of annual session, finance and equipment; and furnish specimens of written work of pupils, as a basis for classification. No school will be classified as a high school of the first class or of the second class until inspected and approved by a representative of the State Department of Education. By classification is meant: establishing educational standards; encouraging schools to attain these standards; certifying those that have attained them; and accrediting their work, for the purpose of grading, correlating, unifying these schools into an effective system. High schools are classified as high schools of the first class, or four-year high schools; high schools of the second class, or three-year high schools; and high schools of the third class, or two-year high schools, according to number of units of work effectively taught. High schools which have been classified by the State Department of Education become eligible to apply for State aid in establishing vocational instruction; and are accredited...
