Finding 2 ATF Could Improve the Referral Process to the Field Divisions The Brady Branchs process for sending referrals to field divisions could be improved. First, the referral packages are not as complete and easy to interpret as they could be. Second, the referrals are sometimes not timely, or are even lost between the Brady Branch and the field divisions. Several factors have contributed to the need for an improved referral process, including that (1) ATF has not fully utilized the Brady Branch resources, because the NICS program and Brady Branch are relatively new, (2) the Brady Branch must mail its referral packages to the field divisions because the Branchs information system does not communicate with the fields system, and (3) there are no controls in place to ensure the referral packages sent to field divisions are actually received. As a result, ATF has not made the most efficient use of both the field division and Brady Branch resources. Also, some investigations and firearm retrievals were delayed. ATF management needs to address these issues to ensure that pertinent information is identified, captured, and distributed in a form and time frame that permits people to perform their duties efficiently. Brady Branch Could Make Referral Packages More Useful Field division personnel commented that Brady Branch referral packages could address additional factors and could be easier to use. First, Brady Branch staff could perform more background research related to specific state laws to assist field agents. Second, the Brady Branch staff could take steps to...
