

The Ministry of Guidance Invites You to Not Stay: An American Family in Iran

By Hooman Majd

Anchor. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Paperback. 272 pages. Dimensions: 8.0in. x 5.2in. x 0.6in. With U. S. Iran relations at a thirty-year low, Iranian-American writer Hooman Majd dared to take his young family on a year-long sojourn in Tehran. The Ministry of Guidance Invites You to Not Stay traces their domestic adventures and closely tracks the political drama of a terrible year for Iran's government. It was an annus horribilis for Iran's Supreme Leader. The Green Movement had been crushed, but the regime was on edge, anxious lest democratic protests resurge. International sanctions were dragging down the economy while talk of war with the West grew. Hooman Majd was there for all of it. A new father at age fifty, he decided to take his blonde, blue-eyed Midwestern yoga instructor wife Karri and his adorable, only-eats-organic infant son Khash from their hip Brooklyn neighborhood to spend a year in the land of his birth. It was to be a year of discovery for Majd, too, who had only lived in Iran as a child. The book opens ominously as Majd is stopped at the airport by intelligence officers who show him a four-inch thick security file about his books and journalism...

If you need to adding benefit, a must buy book. This really is for all who states that there had not been a well worth reading. It is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding, once you begin to read the book.
